Draft Scoping Plan Comments

Greetings,

I tried to submit this via internet however your website wasn't working. Therefore here are my thoughts:

The ENERGY PLAN at its core is a bad idea. Putting all of our energy needs in one basket can lead to nothing but higher prices and more control by a monopoly. The open market should decide whether you want to use electricity, natural gas, propane, or heating fuel. Making everyone use electric will just overtax the grid and create the same kind of problems of trying to get high speed internet to every home, not to mention the loss of jobs. The plan lacks common sense and is nothing more than government once again telling people HOW to live their lives.

Respectfully,

Alan Gregory
